During the week 9-15 July 1950, a rumor was circulating in Rijeka to the effect that the Yugoslav Government had requested military aid from America. It soon became so widespread that the authorities had to make an official denial over the Rijeka radio station. Wall posters were put up by the regime which claimed that the rumor was a lie promulgated by the Cominformists as part of their campaign to show that Yugoslavia was under the domination of the "imperialists."

This document is hereby regraded to CONFIDENTIAL in accordance with the letter of 16 October 1978 from the Director of Central Intelligence to the Archivist of the United States.
